

London Info International is an exhibition and conference dedicated to scholarly, research and professional information

NEWSLETTER

Issue - 4

Organised by:

It is through a passion for the industry that LII was started by people in the industry for the industry in 2014. They saw a very real need for an event that brings together those who create scholarly, research and professional information and organisations that purchase these products.

For more information go to www.londoninfointernational.com

Conference programme finalised

A first class line up of speakers addressing the key issues in the information space

Top keynotes – Ziyad Marar, President, Global Publishing, Sage Publishing. Alfred Rolington, CEO Cyber Security Intelligence. Danny Kingsley, Deputy Director of Scholarly Communication University Library, University of Cambridge, Head of Scholarly Communications, University of Cambridge. Nicola Jones, Head of Publishing for Grand Challenges, Springer Nature.

Key issues – Facing the realities of uncertainty. New tribes, changing realities. The AI and machine learning renaissance – a revolution in the waiting? Dispatches from the university publishing revolution. Meet the upstarts – the publishing start-ups challenging the status quo. Valuing truth in the age of fake. Birth of the new infotech. Whose research is it anyway? Open science, open futures? Welcome to the new impact.

See full details here <http://info-international.com/2017-conference-programme/>

Interested in being part of LII 2017?

Do you want to hear more about our exciting news?

Contact us today!

Conference tables – special offer

Our brand new venue – The Business Design Centre – gives us the exciting facility to have part of our conference delegation seated at tables cabaret style. We can offer a table of 8 for the price of 6 full delegate places – that's just £4170+VAT. Contact us to book this limited offer.

22 countries now represented at LII 2017

The "international" part of our event name is important to us. We want to be inclusive and to bring together delegates and visitors from all around the world. 22 nations represented so far – come and meet with the information world in London in December.

Copyright Card Game – delegates and exhibition visitors can sign up to play this learning game on the 5th December

Copyright is an important subject for all information professionals but one that often causes anxieties. Some of the anxiety is related to the complexity of copyright law and the fact the law is open to interpretation. Many institutions employ dedicated copyright officers to deal with specialist queries, but it's important that all information professionals learn the basics of copyright to help them in their professional lives.

This workshop will be a taster session based on Copyright the Card Game delivered by Chris Morrison and Jane Secker, the team behind the game's development. The game has proved a valuable way of teaching librarians about copyright in an engaging and fun way. During this workshop participants will play an abridged version of the game, as well as get ideas about how to use the resource in their own teaching and professional development. Copyright does not need to be a subject to be afraid of and through using the Card Game, participants will have a clear framework for tackling copyright queries that they receive as well as a useful set of resources of where to go to get further information.

Sign up here – places are strictly limited and this popular feature will be full very soon.

Challenges in the scholarly publishing cycle

'The day will provide an opportunity to strengthen working practices and partnerships'

Another feature that is filling up fast is Challenges in the Scholarly Publishing Cycle – pre-conference day 4th December in collaboration with Research Information.

Organised by Research Information magazine, in partnership with London Info International, this one-day event, forming a pre-conference day to LII, will address the most difficult issues in scholarly publishing from the perspectives of three key stakeholder groups – publishers, information professionals and academics. Building on a specially-commissioned piece of research, to be outlined in the opening keynote, the day will provide representatives from each of the three sectors an understanding of problems faced by those in the other stakeholder groups, and give an opportunity to strengthen working practices and partnerships among all parties.

Content for the day which will include original research work is being arranged by the team at Research Information, led by Tim Gillett (Editor) and Warren Clark (Publisher). Attendance on 4th December is available for a single fee or it can be combined with the main conference days. To find out more click here.

LONDON
INFO INTERNATIONAL

You are invited to attend...

WHOLE RESEARCH IN AN INSTANT
INNOVATION THROUGH ENTREPRENEURSHIP
CYBER SECURITY
AI
PLANNING FOR UNCERTAINTY
MEET THE UPSTARTS
FAKE NEWS
Beyond BREXIT

THE LONDON INFO INTERNATIONAL 2017 EXHIBITION
At London Business Design Centre on 5-6 December 2017
RSVP – www.londoninfointernational.com or email lucy@info-international.co.uk

Royal Society of Chemistry exhibiting at London Info International 2017

With over 54,000 members and an international publishing and knowledge business we are the UK's professional body for chemical scientists, supporting and representing our members and bringing together chemical scientists from all over the world. A not-for-profit organisation with a heritage that spans 175 years, we have an ambitious international vision for the future. Around the world, we invest in educating future generations of scientists. We raise and maintain standards. We partner with industry and academia, promoting collaboration and innovation. We advise governments on policy. And we promote the talent, information and ideas that lead to great advances in science.

We're working to shape the future of the chemical sciences – for the benefit of science and humanity

HighWire Press will be returning this year.

"HighWire Press provides technology solutions for the scholarly community through its innovative Open Platform. Since its inception, HighWire has offered thought leadership and insight to enhance its core digital content development and hosting services.

HighWire offers customer driven, evidence-based solutions to the scholarly publishing community, such as a customizable peer-review manuscript submission system (Bench>Press), a series of cross-publisher librarian engagement and management tools, and strategic consultation for organizations which produce high-impact journals, books, and other scholarly publications."

Dan Filby, CEO of Highwire Press, will also be speaking in the LII Annual conference

Meet ECS on stand 30

The mission of The Electrochemical Society (ECS) is to advance theory and practice at the forefront of electrochemical and solid state science and technology, and allied subjects.

To encourage research, discussion, critical assessment, and dissemination of knowledge in these fields, the Society holds meetings, publishes scientific papers, fosters training and education of scientists and engineers, and cooperates with other organizations to promote science and technology in the public interest.

"ECS is a professional society that has been serving individuals and organizations all over the world since 1902. London Info International provides a forum for our society to network and engage with our current and prospective customers and share how ECS can best serve their needs."

Video - Have a film made at the show

If you are exhibiting or sponsoring with us this year why not get a film record of your experience.

We have appointed Face UP TV to film the show. The film will review all the major UK and International players and suppliers, interview key organisations and assess the current developments in the industry.

For a modest fee the camera crew are happy to make a 3-4 minute film of your company, which can include messages from key personnel, product reviews, graphics, text, music or a mixture of all.

For further information please contact Julian Stewart directly on 07712 871250 / 01993 868517 or Julian.stewart@faceuptv.com

Your FREE
WiredGov
subscription awaits!

We have teamed up with WiredGov to provide all London Info International invitees with a completely free subscription to the UK's No.1 government and public sector news alerting service.

An indispensable service to government and public sector librarians, researchers, academics and policy specialists, WiredGov provides registered users with personally filtered up-to-the minute news alerts from over 160 government and public sector departments and agencies (many which are not available from Gov.UK). You're free to choose from hourly, daily or weekly alert delivery of your selected departments, agencies, key word or key phrases.

Simply click on the specially created London Info International invitation page below to find out more and activate your free WiredGov alert service:

WiredGov LII2017 free subscription

London Info
International dates
and prices held for 2018

4-5 December 2018
Business Design Centre

BOOK NOW FOR 2018

Prices held

londoninfointernational.com